DETAILS

Tonight was our monthly Club night with the theme centering on "Membership".

President Col outlined the format for the night before we dined and after the meeting broke into their various club groups to work through a set of discussion points that were laid out in the discussion paper. After the session the director of each group was called to give an account of their groups thoughts on what is a continuing problem in Rotary. It should be remembered that in the year we had a membership of 44 whereas in July 2004 we now have a membership of 28. To the credit of the club we are still committing ourselves to virtually the same amount of community service that we carried out in 2000.

Briefly the standard procedure for membership is: the prospective members name is submitted to the Board, who then ensure that the nominee is fully qualified either approving or not within 30 days. Until this approval is given they should not told that they have proposed. After this the proposee is told of the rights and responsibilities of Rotary membership and asked if they object to their name being circulated amongst the membership.

WORDS OF WISDOM

A man who views that world at 50 the same way he did at 20 has wasted 30 years of his life.
-Mohamed Ali.

THE FINE SESSION

- ◆ Sergeant Neil Ross was at it again with everything from blatant sexist jokes against both Rtn's Sandy and Chris and the proposed tee shirts.
- ◆ His usual snipes at the Collingwood supporters, particularly seeing that they defeated his Richmond Tigers.
- ◆ Stephen Payne has a new car. He blew the other one up, this one is a real chick magnet, it might help Steve.
- ◆ It seems that anyone over 60 is fair game to Sergeant Neil as he had a go at "OLD" Bob Davis and Noel Langley.
- ◆ Sam Gould has a new Mobile phone; the problem is he needs someone to show him how to use it.

JUST FOR FUN

An elderly woman kept following a young man around a supermarket. When he stopped, she stopped. When he moved, she moved. The young man approached the elderly woman and asked: "why are you following me?" She replied: "I hope I haven't offended you, but you remind me of my late son. I know it sounds a bit silly, but it would make me very happy if you called "Goodbye mum" as I leave." The young man was a sentimentalist and agreed to do so. As the elderly woman left she turned and waved to the young man. He called out "Goodbye mum." At the checkout he was surprised that his bill came to $106-00, "that's right" said the checkout operator, "your Mother said you would pay for her as well."
